World Bromeliad Conference 2018 -Revisited

This month Tom Vincze will provide a slide show on last year's world bromeliad conference in San Diego. These slides are a combination of pictures taken by Tom and Roger Lane. Last year, Dan Arcos gave us a show on the conference and this show attempts to fill in some of the activities that he did not cover, such as the tours to members' collections and the San Diego Botanical Garden (formally Quail Botanical Gardens). Tom will also provide information on the next world conference.

DUES A new calendar year has begun and dues for this year can be given to our treasurer, Harold Charns, at the meeting or mailed to him per instructions on last page of this newsletter.

Roger Lane has signed up for refreshments this month. All other contributions will be appreciated.
